PROGRAM BOOK

Greetings

Hello and welcome to all participants of the 2017 Global Youth Camp for Social and Solidarity Economy(SSE)! We would like to express our warm greetings on behalf of our members of the Global Social Economy Forum (GSEF).

The GSEF is a network of local governments and SSE organisations that aim to solve global issues including poverty, inequality and climate change through the public policies and actions developed by SSE. Established in 2014 in Seoul, GSEF currently holds 37 member organisations who participate actively to share their experiences and knowledges on SSE policies and practices. The GSEF is also working on advocacy for SSE to be pursued as the international agenda of sustainable development for more regions and states.

This Youth Camp is the first GSEF project on Youth. At our last Global Social Economy Forum in 2016 in Montreal, Canada, more than 1,500 participants from 62 countries acknowledged the importance of youth as next generation of SSE actors. The youth have never been insignificant in any period of time or society. Young people have always been a symbol of innovation and the driver of change. We believe that social and solidarity economy is one of the approaches that the youth have chosen in accordance to their tendency to strive for new and bold ideas. Perhaps this is one of the reasons why more and more young people today are attracted to the field of social ventures, enterprises, cooperatives, or global commons movements.

However, today's society and the world in general are unable to satisfy many of the young people's expectations and needs. Not enough jobs are qualified as "decent work" or even available. There are many restrictions that prevent young people from freely expressing their ideas through actions. Quality of housing and education are too costly for youth to pay. Most of the societies are not tolerant or safe enough for young people from diverse cultural and social backgrounds to co-exist.

Young people who are tackling the aforementioned issues with their own creative ideas are gathered here today at the camp. We respect your trials and errors in your attempt to change the society for the better, so that each individual can live harmoniously with others while being his/her self. We value your efforts to nourish your economic activities in human-centred, democratic and eco-friendly ways.

Please be encouraged to share your ideas, experiences, challenges and accomplishments amongst your fellow participants and make life-long friendship to encourage and inspire one another. Please do not forget that your actions are an isolated struggle in your perspective regions, but a part of a global movement to recover the values of humanity and solidarity amongst everyone.

GSEF will be a strong supporting network for your actions. Let us all take this step ahead together for a world where human beings, society and nature can co-exist peacefully.

We hope that you will learn a lot from each other by doing and being together, and making this Global Camp a place of fun, joy and friendship that will nurture your creativities and energies!

Co-chairpersons of the Global Social Economy Forum,

Won Soon Park

Mayor of the Seoul City

Rev. Kyong Yong Song

Former Chairperson of the Seoul Social Economy Network

INTRODUCTION

■ Title : The Global Youth Camp for Social and Solidarity Economy 'Reviva! The Youth Revive the Society'

The background of planning of the 2017 Global Youth Camp for SSE originated from one of resolutions at the Montreal Declaration, which was the final declaration at the GSEF 2016 in Montreal: 6. Recognize and support youth as important actors for the future of the SSE movement. This camp started from the question "What are the perspective that youth have on SSE?", "Why do they need an international cooperation?", "How do they make it?", and etc. Through the camp activities such as plenary sessions, elective sessions, which will be operated by five facilitators, we wish to ask all participants why he/she needs these kinds of activities, and to recognize the needs for supporting youth as crucial potential actors for the SSE. We believe that youth should be able to do what they want to do and act in the society, including families, academic places, working places, etc. and these, in turn, will contribute positively to the society. That's why we put the following slogan, 'Reviva(it has the meaning of the revival in Spanish)! The Youth Revive the Society'.

The program is a 4 day youth camp for a total of 110 young people (between 19~35 years old) to provide them with a setting where they can engage in discussions on social and environmental problems that our society is faced with. The camp will be held in two locations Seoul and Gurye, including a study visit to social economy sites in Seoul.

PROGRAM

Plenary 1

Action of Youth: Changing Society through Social and Solidarity Economy

The importance of the youth as main actors of achieving global goals or solving social issues are almost taken for granted in many debates. Defining youth and their issues are often a political action by various stakeholders of the society, but in the process, youth are often excluded.

Our intention to connect the youth and the social and solidarity economy (SSE) is to show how the young people become actors and subjects of change in their communities and countries through practices of SSE. The forms of SSE that they chose vary from social enterprise, cooperative, community organizations, non-profit civil organizations, etc. Nonetheless, the youth themselves are to identify and interpret their own issues including employment, environment, housing, etc., in diverse and independent ways and solve them in a more democratic and collective manner. Actions of youth in the field of SSE go beyond their own issues and suggest the alternative life style and innovative solution for the peaceful coexistence with nature and society.

In this session, participants are expected to identify and understand the nature of current issues regarding youth at both the local and international level. Together, they will navigate the efforts made by the youth groups and discuss about their achievements and challenges.

As the outcome of the elective, participants can get inspirations and lessons on what would be the best way to promote youth's involvement in SSE and sustainable development in their own community.

Group concept

Welcome to "Decent work" session of the Global SSE Youth Camp 2018.

"Decent work" is an important agenda all over the World.

"Decent work" is an employment that "respects the fundamental rights of the human person as well as the rights of workers in terms of conditions of work safety and remuneration. ... respect for the physical and mental integrity of the worker in the exercise of his/her employment."

(United Nations Economic and Social Council: International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights)

"Decent work" involves "opportunities for work that are productive and deliver a fair income, security in the workplace and social protection for families, better prospects for personal development and social integration, freedom for people to express their concerns, organize and participate in the decisions that affect their lives and equality of opportunity and treatment for all women and men."

(International Labour Organization)

This topic will be divided in two groups: One group will focus on collective teamwork with the MTA methodology. The other will be working based on the Social Venture incubating experiences.

Group concept

Local communities play a key role in nowadays globalised and chaotic world. As new generations (millennials, Z gen...) all around the world they feel "global citizens", there is a special need in re-connecting with "local", in order to create a common "glocal= global & local" concept.

According to Wikipedia, a local community is a group of interacting people sharing an environment. In human communities, intent, belief, resources, preferences, needs, risks and a number of conditions may be present and common, affecting the identity of the participants and their degree of cohesiveness.

And according to Simon Sinek, a community is a group of people who agree to grow together.

Why is worth it to really connect and develop local communities, starting to create small positive impact while contributing to the systemic and global community?

What is the best way for making it happen and which are the key elements for it? What's the role youth play on this? And the role of social entrepreneurs in order to develop and create wealth within local communities while being global at the same time?

Let's play starting from local collective awareness in order to serve and contribute then to the "whole" :)

Elective session 3 Housing

23-24 August 2017

Group concept

The right to housing is recognised in a number of international human rights instruments. Article 25 of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights recognises the right to housing as part of the right to an adequate standard of living.

The SSE approach to housing has grown in many countries, both in the global North and South. These are typically the product of bottom-up initiatives by people who work collectively to satisfy an existing need.

The last decade has underscored the importance of such mobilization, given its greater resilience to the speculative financial economy, as demonstrated during the 2008-2009 financial and economic crises.

For our session, we will explore inspired examples of solutions aimed at providing accessible housing to all, interspersed by techniques and strategies to develop effective dialogue and to promote collaboration. We will explore our role in solving challenges. During two days, our group will work towards becoming a team.

Facilitator

Nicolas received his bachelor's degree at the University of Guelph (Loran Scholar 2002) which he had chosen for its reputation as an engaged university. As the Social Innovation Lead at Concordia University, he continues his work in an engaged institution and explores the question: "what does the next-generation university look like?" while coordinating the CHNGR program.

Nicolas has a growing interest for facilitation and the development of collaborative practices within groups, notably as part of his work with SHIFT: Concordia's Social Innovation Hub. He looks forward to hearing from a diversity of perspectives and is particularly excited to visit Korea for the first time!

Elective session 4 Social Finance

23-24 August 2017

Group concept

Social finance for youth can largely be divided in two categories. One, it refers to the notion of youth coming together to form collective financial activities such as forming credit unions, to financially support activities relevant to the youth, who, in many circumstances, face difficulties trying to start-up their own businesses in the competitive market. Two, it refers to various activities/organisations that financially support youth activities, such as social ventures, co-ops and various not-for-profit initiatives. These may refer to social economy support centres, investment banks reserved for the youth, etc.

What are your opinions on this matter?

On one hand, Wikipedia defines social finance as an approach to managing money that delivers a social dividend and an economic return. It shares the twin focus of stimulating positive social and environmental returns for investors and the larger world.

What's your understanding and practices of it?

As youth for the future, we need to build our common understanding of the social and environmental problems we are facing.

Are you eager for financial innovation?

Do you have any inspiring cases or practices to share?

If you think you are too small to make a difference, come and join us! The future is on our hands. Let's dream together!

Group 1 (Decent Work): HEYGROUND

HEYGROUND is a co-working community space for 500 Changemakers, located in Seongsu-dong, Seoul, Korea. Root Impact designed and developed the building and 24 potential tenant firms (who are also ventures) collaborated in the building process since March 2015. Each month, we work with these 24 firms on major topics from community building to work cultures to make HEYGROUND the great work environment in Asia, which has been a meaningful step for everyone to have a common understanding and sense of belonging to the Changemaking community.

HEYGROUND is a starting point for those who want to experience the changemaking culture, a Launchpad to scale up social ventures for sustainable growth, and a collective movement to collaborate in social innovation as a global community.

HEYGROUND community members have been tackling various social issues in their own unique ways such as education, environment, agriculture, disability, childcare, employment, culture and regional development, etc.

If you want to learn more about HEYGROUND and its community members, please access to www.heyground.com.

Group 2 (Decent Work): Seoul Innovation Park & Youth Hub

Seoul Innovation Park is a social innovation platform for innovators to solve a series of civil issues by combining all forces and a creation park for citizens to encounter and participate in innovative trials in enjoyable ways.

The park has been gradually developed since 2013 in Eunpyung-gu, located in Northern west region of Seoul. The size of the park is estimated at over 100,000m² with main working buildings, specialized buildings and outdoor spaces.

The total number of people doing activities in the park is estimated at 1,110 and that of groups is at 235. Innovators could be largely divided in two categories; Intermediary organizations and Innovation groups. Intermediary organizations' role is to facilitate innovation by supporting and connecting innovators and citizen. Innovation groups are resident working groups which are eager to actualize real changes in their diverse areas including culture, education, networking, human rights, fair trade and etc.

Seoul Innovation Center is in charge of the overall management of the park. The center aims to encourage citizens and innovators to be connected, share experiences and do experiments based on the park.

Seoul Youth Hub helps young people not lose motivation, build more experiences, through which they would be able to continue their works or activities with confidence.

“Seoul Youth Hub focuses on young people’s LIFE. We find POSSIBILITIES from them. We provide the SPACES for communication and CONNECT them.”

Group 3 (Community): Sewoon Sangga

Located in Jongno 3-ga and Toegye-ro 3-ga of Jongno-gu, Seoul, Sewoon Sangga is a multi-complex of small shops and factories making electronic devices. It was constructed in 1968 as the first national multipurpose building, and was once prosperous as the only national comprehensive productive goods complex. From the 1990s, the complex experienced decline. In 2015, however, the “Sewoon Regeneration Project” began. Currently, numerous start-ups, community organizations, or artistic platforms, such as “Sewoon Gong-Gong,” “Sewoon Suri Suri Cooperative,” and “SE Cloud Fab Labs”, an enterprise specialised in incubating start-ups, are currently located in Sewoon.

The “00University” in Sewoon began with the vision that there are many things to be learned from the community in which we live in. The youth of the 00University are therefore focused on discovering hidden resources and daily values of the area, instead of incorporating new things, and sharing what they found with the residents to rejuvenate the community. Beginning from Guro with “Map is University” campaign, the movement is spreading to other districts such as Seongbuk, Gwanghwado Onson, Bucheon, and Bupyeong.

Group 4 (Housing): Minsnail Housing Cooperative

'Min' snail (snail without its shell) Housing Cooperative recognises the difficulties of youth housing issues and understands the need for an alternative model that will provide safe and reliable housing for youth.

Minsnail attempts to solve this issue by providing alternative housing via adopting cooperative-methods.

Minsnail Housing Cooperative supplies, operates and manages "social houses", which are community houses that its members live in. All members of the cooperative share and own the services collectively.

Supplying "Minsnail housing", which constructs and supplies share houses are based upon investments from its members. "Minsnail real estate service," which provides real estate services for Minsnail members, and "Roommate matching program" which recruit potential residents and matches roommates based on personality, preferences, etc. are some of the services provided at Minsnail.

Minsnail Coop has also participated in public social housing project pursued by LH, a national housing agency.

Group 5 (Social Finance): Youth Solidarity Bank TODAK

Long-term unemployment, unstable employment, high cost of living all contribute to pushing the youth in a cycle of debt. The youth solidarity bank, "Todak," opened in February 2013 to solve these financial issues of the youth. 'Todak' means patting other person's shoulders or back to console or encourage him/her in Korean. The bank is operated as a cooperative, and is a not-for-profit that lends microcredits to the youth. Furthermore, interest on all loans is operated on voluntary-interest processes.

In 2015, working in partnership with Youth Jubilee Movement Headquarters and other organisations, Todak worked with various youths to reduce the amount of student loans. As mentioned above, Todak's most important role as a "finance cooperative" is lending community funds to youths who are in desperate need. Furthermore, Todak takes very seriously the close relationship/friendship amongst its members and value education for the members to plan their expenses, savings, or investments.

Gurye Naturaldream Park

Gurye Naturaldream Park is the first national eco-friendly organic cluster. It is located in Gurye-gun, Junnam Province, and covers 149,336m². The Park is a multiple complex that encompasses workshops and support centres (restaurants, experience room, movie theatre, café, sauna, guest house, hue centres, etc.) accessible by members of iCOOP and local residents. Gurye Naturaldream Park opened in April 2014, and was created based on investment and participation from its members and producers. Currently, there are about 17 workshops (ramen workshop, starch workshop, kimchi workshop, whole wheat workshop, butcher's workshop) that are operated, producing over 360 kinds of goods. Each workshop oversees all steps of production and distribution of its goods. As of 2016, 80% of employers of Gurye Naturaldream Park are from the area, portraying how this facility supports the region.

Hwaeomsa Temple

Situated on the southwest corner of Jirisan Mountain, Hwaeomsa Temple is one of the 10 most famous temples in Korea. It was constructed in the fifth year of King Jinheung's reign (544) during the Silla Era, but was burnt down during Japanese Invasion, Jeongyujaeran in 1592. Including the main building Daeungjeon, the temple was rebuilt during the Joseon Period.

The path to the temple lies along the valley named Hwaeomsa Temple Valley. It also takes you to Nogodan Plateau of Jirisan Mountain. With Korean traditional straw-roofed houses and a water mill, you can find a cozy place named Siuidongsan, which means the Hill of Poetry, to take a rest at you're right on the way to the temple.

Beyond this area is the main gate of Hwaeomsa Temple, Iljumun Gate, and a long stonewall. Entering the main gate, you can find Geumgangmun Gate and the stairs going up to Bojeru. At the top of the stairs, there are the main building Daeungjeon and Gakhwangjeon Pavilion.

There are also Seo-ocheung Pagoda (west-five-story pagoda) and Dongocheung Pagoda (east-five-story pagoda) at each side of the front yard. In front of Gakhwangjeon Pavilion is the largest light made of stone in Korea. In addition, there are many national treasures here including the Sasaja Samcheung (3-story) Stone Pagoda, which is situated at the hill called Hyodae. The main building Daeungjeon and Bojeru is magnificent and graceful. Keeping its original beauty, Hwa-eomsa Temple makes beautiful scenery with the nature around it.

EXPERIENCE IN SSE/ CURRENT ACTIVITIES

My first conscious interaction with SSE world was when I joined MTA / Mondragon University in 2009. I have developed many projects related to SSE in Basque Country, Brazil, India or Chile.

Currently I'm member and leader of a workers cooperative called TZBZ (means Why Not in basque language) in which we empower youth through education and we launch new businesses with social & "global" impact. Our aim is to reinvent and readapt the cooperative movement.

I'm member and social teampreneur in MTA World, being part of MTA Asia (China & Korea), MTA Bilbao teams.

EXPERIENCE IN SSE/ CURRENT ACTIVITIES

I have been involved in the SSE since 2011, first by promoting it towards students of La Sorbonne University where I used to study, to raise awareness on opportunities of meaningful jobs. Then I worked for 3 years for SSE International Forum (ex Mont-Blanc Meetings) as Deputy General Manager, organizing events to facilitate the encounter of SSE entrepreneurs throughout the world, from any sector and of various ages, while also promoting SSE towards governments and international institutions. I remained quite active in youth organizations in particular in France and in North Africa, taking part or setting up several events on SSE with and for youth in these regions. I am now more focused on the local level and the roots of SSE, in Africa and in Asia particularly, working with very remote communities in a project that trains women on renewable energy and livelihood activities, and help them set up women's groups, like cooperatives for instance.

I have been on the job training since this spring. I have visited various business places of JWCU including agriculture (social farm), cleaning services, elderly and child care. I'd like to learn SSE in various types more deeply in order to develop worker corporative movements in Japan, and to spread practices of "associated work" over the society.

Through last semester, several members of our club started a project called "Haeng seong(행성)" which is aimed at gender equality, education for children in developing countries, proper sex education.

So we held a lecture in our school with gynaecologist and had Q&A session, too. Because the project was a part of CSR activity of an enterprise, I could learn how CSR actually works from that project.

I am planning to study more about SSE from coming semester and want to start a new project carrying out crowd funding.

EXPERIENCE IN SSE/ CURRENT ACTIVITIES

Namaste, I am kishan Gurung from Nepal. I have been in this SSE filed since Dec 2015 as a member of Beautiful coffee Nepal. We are working in District area like Sindhupalchok coffee cooperative and Gulmi coffee cooperative in Nepal to uplifting the social economic condition of the small farmers and also introduction of fair trade concept for benefit of smallholder coffee farmers in vision to improved socio-economic through make the solidarity of the people and communities in Nepal.

Before I was involved in SSE I have worked in commercial coffee sector. During that time what I realized was many Nepali youths went overseas countries for working to earn money for their family and their own future. Also the number of Nepali workers who are dreaming to go abroad have more than doubled every year. Some people are doing good some are died because of not good working condition according to 2008 record out of 2500 workers 500 are died. So I decided to contribute to change this situation.

"Why should we have to go overseas for work instead creating opportunities in Nepal?" I have started from this question. And I think I can start from being a role model with doing something in our society through creating new opportunities from my field, coffee.

Therefore I have chosen Beautiful Coffee Nepal to find the way to innovate of this society. And now we are creating something new opportunities through the solidarity with domestic and international stake holders like many coffee cooperatives in Nepal and various organizations as Beautiful Coffee Korea. It is not only growing of community but also me as a personal, I believe I have improved. Now I have learnt there are so many ways to contribute to local communities with my coffee knowledge and skill. It is clear that we are trying to develop our social economic system from the bottom.

At the first time I felt it will be difficult to change our society through the small field like coffee farming, but my opinion has totally changed. Trough our working in the coffee field and supporting small farmers for finding their own way to improve their life , I believe our society will be able to change gradually. And I am sure I will have a role for it. It means I can be an evidence that there is no need to go abroad to make dreams come true.

Hope the number of people who have same perspective like me will be increased and make better society through strong solidarities.

Expectations: My expectation for this program is to find the way to persuade people who are going to overseas countries. I want to make their mind different. I think they do not need to die in abroad with the just reason why the 'money'. Youth they can do anything first. When I was alone I did not think I can change my society with just my coffee knowledge but now I am doing it. Therefore I want to make my experience systemize and share with youngster in Nepal through this program. I am sure it is the first step to make a positive effect to whole youngsters' community and I am ready to be a frontier.

Since last semester, I have being a member of SEN student club and it makes me have more interests on social economy. In each session, we studied together about certain keyword such as social finance, CSR, cooperative, and sharing economy. After members who were in charge of presenting the concept briefly in each session, we discussed about the issue as well sitting in a circle. Among every session, I was especially impressed about Community Development Financial Institutions Fund(CDFI) which was my presentation topic. Trying to solve two social problems, one is to help alienated finance groups support themselves, and the other is to improve backward region in the capitalism system, seems very fresh approach to me. I am also joining Responsible&Value Investing Club, taking a class about Impact Investing. In addition to these official sessions, we also made a project. Our project was about sex education which we thought was weak and not very helpful currently. We constituted practical contents and also published short card news in our facebook page. It was good experience to know how we do something to solve social problems even from a small step.

I have roughly four years of experience with KOICA in the African continent 2011 - 2016

For the first 2 years, it was in Senegal, I taught computer in a small college at the Rufisque City.

As a volunteer, I worked and lived devotedly and intensely. In that moment, I recovered the value of my life.

There were no computers in my school that can be used for education. I proposed to them to start a small project with the finance of KOICA to establish a multimedia documentation space in our school.

With the success of the small project at school, I learned the responsibility and joy of self-directed work.

When I came back to Korea, after my mission, I decided to work for Local society.

That's why I work in the Nowon Self-Sufficiency Promotion Center since 02, 2017 I work for the people who lost the motivation of economic activity. We try to making a revitalization of their confidence and life.

But it's really hard to reenter the society without the support of the country. I want to see and talking with the people who strenuous worker for same issue. This is the reason for I applied this camp.

From 2015, I started to be a graduate student in Kyungpook National University. My major is sociology and especially I am interested in local community and education.

And last year, 2016, I participated a local research project called "Basic Resources for Public Activities" which supervised by Daegu Center for Supporting Citizen's Public Activities. It's an introduction for local activists to know about public space, heritage and other associations. And this project expected to improve and support the local activists' social activities.

Nowadays, I am preparing for my master graduation thesis about the impact of regional community (local resident) to school renovation (This is working title). Also I am doing a group study about Feminism at Daegu Women's Association to build up my gender sensitive perspective.

I have a strong record in the enterprise development sector and extensive knowledge and experience in facilitating the development of Co-operatives, also the ability to facilitate integrated business support development programmes and interventions to promote enterprises owned by previously disadvantaged individuals, groups, and communities to enable them to enter the mainstream economy.

I have a vast of experience in the formulation and implementation of robust strategies that are concentrated to enhancing Co-operatives. I am Committed to human development and community service.

I have been in the SEE area since I graduated from University. My first experience was in 2006 when I was on an internship Programme with the Department of Economic Development and Tourism for one year in 2006 - 2007. When the internship Programme came to an end I was then employed by Ithala Development Finance Institution as the Business Advisor for Small Businesses and assisting with access to finance from 2010 till 2013. I then received an offer at the EThekweni Municipality in 2013 as the Business Development Facilitator responsible for social development and up-liftment through providing interventions such as Access to business information, access to finance, access to markets and procurement opportunities. I was then introduced to the International Labour Organization (ILO) and became part of the Social and Solidarity Economy Academy Programme and received training in Brazil (2013) and South Africa (2014) during the development practitioners programme. Through my had work in showing dedication to social development and the Municipality identified the need to expand to rural and urban communities as there was a great need for capacitating and addressing the social issues in many communities which will decrease unemployment, combat crime, create circulation of wealth amongst communities. Having developed and presented the Co-operative Development Strategy which was approved by the Executive Committee, I was then promoted to be the Programme Manager for the Co-operatives Development Programme in August 2016 with the purpose to implement the strategy with a team so we can reach as many communities.

I have been privileged to be given the task to develop relationships with communities, community structures and /or assist in the development of structures to ensure smooth efficient delivery of development projects; and to also monitor and evaluate impact and relevance by assessing the relationship activities or inputs and output.

I have also been exposed to the development of sectors through providing capacity building interventions that are sector specific with a focus on:

1. Agriculture / Agro- processing
2. Manufacturing
3. Textile

It has been the most interesting journey in the social development area and I am still very eager to learn models of other countries.

Outside, I witnessed declining industries and heaps of fabric waste discarded by the sewing factories (22 tons every day). I launched my own SE business that was Zero Space for solving these three problems. We design and manufacture products that reduce waste at production stage from 30% to 5% whilst providing 30% higher wages and regular work to local community.

Our focus is producing high quality goods at a profit with positive social value. We yearn to bring social and environmental consciousness to consumption culture through our example and social design education; hence our collaboration with government and non-profit organizations has educated youths on social design.

EXPERIENCE IN SSE/ CURRENT ACTIVITIES

Most of my organizing work has been focused on the Auraria campus in Denver Colorado and deals primarily with the politics of space. I work with other students and community members to try and create new models of shared space by learning about history and working to deconstruct relationships created by capitalism, domination, competition, and exploitation. My focus in social and solidarity economies is rooted in projects that work to find alternative models to capitalism while focusing on healing and regeneration on an interpersonal and community level. I have been involved in Divestment work, cooperative business model research, and am currently involved locally with various projects and organizations working to disrupt the cycles that produce homelessness and finding alternatives to 'solutions' that do not address human dignity and community.

My primary focus within social and solidarity economies looks at how humans relate to the land, both conceptually and materially and the intersections between transforming ourselves and healing the world we live in.

EXPERIENCE IN SSE/ CURRENT ACTIVITIES

Honestly, it had been long time ago I'd worked in SSE. When I was 17, I'd worked for a NGO named 'City Community of Seoul'. My main work was the investigation of housing form in Bukchon Hanok Village. I looked into how people live with their Korean style house and it made me to get interest about Housing.

Owing to this experience, I'd been related to some NGO and I visited those several times to perform a concert. Then sometimes I joined their activities and conferences after the concert.

Since I get in to college, I had no chance to work in SSE anymore. But experiences I had with NGO activities are very interesting for me and I hope I can join in it someday.

EXPERIENCE IN SSE/ CURRENT ACTIVITIES

I have no experience in SSE so far, however I'd like to learn about SSE through this event.

Around end of 2014 and beginning of 2015, I went to Luang Prabang in Laos for travelling.

During my stay, I was invited to Primary school to teach English just for a day. We had a lot of fun together. I realized that they have potentials but less opportunities.

I've been working as interpreter for business meetings and also assistant for international conferences and forums.

Whatever I worked for I did my best with my heart and I will do the same thing for this event.

It could be good example that I received Volunteer Award from 2014 Incheon Asian Game Organizing Committee.

I love travelling.

I visited so many places and met various people around world.

Many of them became my good friends.

I learnt good things from them and would like to share the stories with our participants.

I think I'm also an open-minded person.

It doesn't matter of which ethics they're from, what ages they are, I can get along with them easily. I'm Korean but I confuse people of me South east Asian.

I'm ready to become your friend.

I learned that active young leaders must take action to fight for the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), such as fighting against discrimination, poverty, and environmental pollution.

As part of our In-Coming Exchange project, we held a PEARL (Promoting Equity for Autism through Rehabilitation and Leadership) Project to help fight the discrimination against autistic people, especially focusing on their job rehabilitation. We had the chance to work with Autistar, a social enterprise that sells products with designs made by autistic people with artistic talents. We also visited a few social enterprise or centers that hire autistic people.

This is my first year to work for the GSEF(Global Social Economy Forum) as a supporter of the Global Youth Camp for SSE.

In my senior year of High school, I have been involved in teaching English to elementary students at a local school in Kyrgyzstan. It was a poor private school run by a Christian director alone with a few teachers that taught. Along similar lines with the previous involvement, I have volunteered as a helper at an English-teaching program, where students from abroad came to Korea to teach English to elementary kids of low income. Though it was a small act of service, I am sure that the children came to enjoy learning English and seeds of love were planted at those schools. I have also participated at a mentoring camp through Aiesec (Youth Leadership Organization), where we coordinated and conducted a mentoring camp at Noun Middle School (located at a rural region of Korea). Having been involved in various activities and services, I have come to learn the hurtful and arduous truths of these kids and from deep within I have longed to help and support the deprived people. It thus has become my dream to reach out to the impoverished people financially as well via the act of service. 2017 is the year I begun working at a youth camp (International SSE Youth Camp) led by GSEF(Global Social Economy Forum).

EXPERIENCE IN SSE/ CURRENT ACTIVITIES

My name is Jeongwon Noh and I'm a freshman at Kyunghee University. A couple years ago, I was given the humbling opportunity to take part in the International Federation of the Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies' Model General Assembly as vice chair. It was an eye-opening experience that introduced me to an entirely new level of humanitarian rights and the restless work Red Cross and Red Crescent youth leaders put into bringing a safer, more resilient world to those whom struggle with hunger, poverty, and uncontrollable natural disasters. The passion that I saw in the eyes of the participants that year shook me to my core and has ever since inspired me to utilize my own set of experiences and skills to reach out to those who feel vulnerable and neglected.

I had always been involved in bringing public awareness on certain social issues ever since I first joined my Alma mater's broadcasting organization, but my experience at IFRC's General Assembly was life altering and I'm hoping GSEF will inspire each and every one of us to look at the world and its issues in different ways so that we can truly contribute into bringing a better tomorrow not only for us, but for future generations.

I am well aware that conflicts are inevitable, especially when passionate leaders from different parts of the world come together to discuss topics that matter to us all. However, I hope we will be able to use the provided platforms not only to voice our own opinions, but to also listen to what others bring to the table so that we can learn from one another and, at the end of the day, take back something to our own communities.

EXPERIENCE IN SSE/ CURRENT ACTIVITIES

Hello fellow staff members and participants of this year's Global Social Economy Forum! My name is Joonha Noh and I'm a junior at Vanderbilt University! I am an anthropology/sociology major and a violin performance minor. I've partaken in multiple international conferences, including the International Federation of the Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies' Model General Assembly, but I'm completely new to GSEF so I'm both nervous and extremely excited about getting to know each and every one of you and the many things this year's forum will unfold for us! I can go on and on about a lot of things, including some of my favorite television shows (i.e. The Big Bang Theory, Friends, Sex and the City, etc.), my own set of experiences as a human rights activist, my love for the Academy Awards-the list literally has no end! Aside from my set of interests, I have been extremely privileged to work at one of South Korea's largest CGI production companies with world renowned CGI artists, such as Caine Dickinson, lead CGI supervisor of the Harry Potter series; three-time Academy Award winner and CGI supervisor of the Lord of the Ring trilogy Jim Rygiel, etc.

I was born in South Korea and was raised in the United States, so I speak both Korean and English fluently. On top of that, I have also translated for multiple international conferences, so I'm hoping I'll be able to bridge conversations during this year's forum as well! I can come off as a colorful person at first and you'll probably notice my loud personality as soon as you meet me, but that just shows how much I enjoy getting to know people and establishing relationships with people from all different walks of life. So, please don't ever hesitate to come up to me with questions or with random/interesting topics we can discuss! If there's one thing I know about international conferences, it's that we come not only to learn, but to genuinely enjoy the company of each other and I know that that's exactly what will happen at GSEF this year for all of us.
